Step-by-Step Guide Against Revenge Porn

What to do if your intimate photos or videos are shared without your consent

Step 1: Detection

- Stay calm: Act quickly but wisely.
- Locate the content: Identify where it has been posted (social media, forums, messaging apps).
- Avoid sharing it: Do not forward it to prevent further spread.

Step 2: Evidence Collection

- Take screenshots: Include date, time, and URL.
- Save messages or notifications: Everything can serve as evidence.
- Do not modify the files: Keep the integrity of the evidence.

Step 3: Removal Request

- Contact the platform: Use the official forms to report non-consensual intimate content.
- Invoke your rights: Mention the violation of your privacy and image.
- Act quickly: The sooner it's removed, the less it spreads.

Step 4: Report to Authorities

- Go to the police: File a report with your collected evidence.
- Cite the applicable law: Revenge porn is a crime in many countries.
- Seek legal advice: A specialized lawyer can guide you.

Step 5: Emotional and Legal Support

- Don't face this alone: Seek support from friends, family, or associations.
- Access psychological help: Protect your emotional well-being.
- Contact cybersecurity and victim support organizations: They will guide you in the legal and digital process.

Remember: You have the right to protect your privacy.

Acting quickly and seeking support increases your chances of stopping the spread.
